Masuri is the most widely used helmet amongst first class & international crickets today, and here is why:

Protection: Masuri's unique three layer design combining two composite shells and a polyurethane foam filled cavity allows Masuri to remain the most slim line helmet on the market whilst maintaining fantastic impact protection

Fit: Masuri's head foam has been developed over many years of trials and tests to ensure players feel comfortable whenever they take to the field in a Masuri helmet

Airflow: Minimal internal padding means increased airflow around the head keeping players cooler
